Benjamin Powell, 2017 Scholar

Digital Designer

Primarily Looking For: Someone successful in the arts or creative tech

- "I would love to work with someone that was able to find success in the arts/creative tech, possibly even via an unconventional path. I am feeling a bit directionless in my career and experiencing a disconnect between the work that I'm doing and what would make me happy. My goals are to find the root of these problems and hopefully become friends with my mentor in the long-term."

Joslyn Hays, 2020 Scholar

Graduate Student at the University of Denver

Primarily Looking For: Someone with experience in environmental science

- "I would love to chat with a mentor who went into the environmental field and has experienced some of the variety of that career field (especially on the Western slope/western side of the state). I have now developed technical skills that open me to a more tech-based career field, but I am wanting to find a way to continue my career using these skills in an outdoor environment. Having a mentor helps me figure out what direction leads me towards my ultimate goals of making a difference related to water in the west."
